Zoo Seeks Our Help

APPEAL FROM BUTTONWOOD PARK

In progress at the present time, there is a community effort to save an important part of the heritage of this area. The Veterans' Memorial Zoo at Buttonwood Park in New Bedford is so familiar to all of us. We remember, as youngsters, our parents taking us to the zoo to see the animals.

Zoo are Kenneth Pacheco and Melody Mills. Mr. Pacheco is also on the Board of Directors of the zoo. He explains that the future of the zoo became most endangered when the City of New Bedford was forced to cut its funds in half for lack of money to feed, house and care for the animals. It then became necessary to turn to the community for direct support. The directors of the zoo started an Adopt an Animal program that is now in progress and which has caught the imagination, participation and support of businesses, clubs, and individuals in a most heartwarming way. People of all ages and interests are joining to save the animals so that kids can visit them as their parents, grandparents and great grandparents did before them.

$100. for a small one to $10,000 for an elephant (to provide for its food, habitat and care), and those who adopt are provided with a plaque to display in their business or home with the name of the animal. In the zoo, a similar plaque on the site recognizes the adopting "parent, business or club".

There were 95 animals up for adoption and many have already found support. In Mattapoisett Willie the Hedgehog has been adopted by Village Signs and Underwater Solutions has adopted a snake, the Party Golf Association has adopted a Ferret and the program has not even begun in earnest in this town. In the next week or two Mr. Pacheco plans a meeting with Mattapoisett Selectmen to see if the town is interested and able to adopt an animal.

To reach individuals throughout the town, Ken has already contacted the Continental Cablevision Company and they have offered to let him host a program to introduce some of the animals which he will bring down to show on TV. He also hopes to bring animals to introduce to individuals, in person, in some central location such as Center School if permission can be obtained.

If individuals and families want to support the animals but do not feel able to adopt, they can join the Zoological Society for a fee of $5.00 per person or $20.00 per family. They will then have the satisfaction of directly helping.

Mr. Ken Pacheco asks that anyone who is interested in adopting an animal contact him at 758-2853. He will then be able to

Mr. Pacheco said that many thousands have been raised through the generosity of area people, groups, and businesses who want to retain this zoo and its animals.

In 1994 the zoo's anniversary will be a 100th milestone and will be celebrated with great pride by a generous, caring public personally involved in its ongoing heritage.

Chairman DeCosta said the complaints were brought against these officers in a letter to the Board of Selectmen in December and has been given careful and thorough consideration. The complainant is Ms. Harriet Rantoul of 15 Shady Oak Drive, the chairman said.

The chairman said, "It is expected that each of these hearings will be held in executive session. However, the statute gives the defendants the option of holding the hearings in either open or executive session." The chairman made no other comments at this time.

Because of the New Year's Day holiday there was no selectmen's meeting on Tuesday, December 31st. The next regular meeting will be held at 7 p.m. Tuesday, January 7th.

qualify. SHARE stands for S for Self, H for Help, A for and, R for Resource and E for exchange.

It is not a give-away nor a government program. It is a getting-together of volunteers to make good wholesome food available at a low cost. Two hours of community service and $14. cash or food stamps gets you food with a retail value of $30-$35. You are not bound to register every month. If you want more than one unit, multiply the community service and the $14. by the number of units required.

Community service is any volunteer service you perform with your church, schools, libraries, nursing homes, baby sitting for a young mother, taking an elderly person shopping or to the doctors. Or you can serve at the Seahorse site or at the warehouse in Canton. Your children can volunteer for you, if you are working.

Have you gotten your SHARE? Registration for 1992 will be on the first Tuesday of the month, and food pickup is on the fourth Saturday of the month. Registration is at the Seahorse, corner of North Street and Route 6.

Mattapoisett Board of Appeals

The Mattapoisett Board of Appeals announced December 12th that two Special Permits and one Variance were granted.

Gary W. Warner and Catherine Murray of Grafton were granted a special permit relating to property at 11 Oliver Street for construction of a 12 foot by 22 foot addition to a lawfully non-conforming structure, a single family dwelling in the Waterfront 30 District.

The initial hearing was held on October 17th, and was continued to November 21st for additional reports on the adequacy of the septic system. The existing house is a four-room summer cottage which contains one bedroom and one bath. The existing dwelling has open-pile construction with uninsulated floor and exposed plumbing. The proposed addition would also be built on piers and would maintain the same roofline as the existing dwelling. No change in the use of the home from seasonal to year-round is contemplated by the applicants.

An evaluation of the septic system was conducted on July 29th by Arthur Thompson, Inc. and it was reported that the system was a cesspool measuring four feet deep and four feet in diameter. The cesspool is used as a septic tank diverting the effluent to a leaching area. The engineer did not uncover or examine this leaching area. In the opinion of the engineer, with no change in the number of bedrooms, it would not be necessary to upgrade the septic system and current system is adequate for this property.

The special permit was granted with the following conditions: the room will not be used for additional sleeping area; the recommendations of the Arthur Thompson Company relating to the adequacy of the septic system be followed - install water saver fixtures and low-flush toilets, pump the cesspool twice a year and have the pumping contractor appraise you of any problem. The applicants are also required to send copies of bills from the pumping contractor to the Board of Appeals' secretary.

Michael Michaud of 7 Crooked Bow Path was granted a special permit relating to property at 10 Shaw Street to demolish an existing non-conforming structure and to build a new single family house on a lot with less than the required area and frontage. The property in question was the subject of a previous decision of the board, and the applicant asks now for a change in construction plans which require changes in the special permit; therefore, a petition for a variance was withdrawn.

The RR 30 Zoning District requires 30,000 square feet in area; this lot has 10,000;

150 foot frontage; it has 100 foot. The existing structure has been condemned and is uninhabitable due to a fire. The proposed house would be more centered on the lot and have a front setback of 27 feet, rather than the previous 19 foot front setback. The proposed house will not encroach on either of the side setbacks or on the rear setback.

Proposed is a two-story, three bedroom, single family Cape, with the second floor two bedrooms temporarily unfinished at this time. The proposed septic system is newly designed and will comply with Title V regulations. No one appeared in opposition to this proposal. The board found that demolition of the existing condemned structure which is both unsightly and a potential hazard to children will benefit the neighborhood.

A variance was granted to James T. and Debra J. Jones of 18 Upland Way to construct a 19 foot by 34 foot swimming pool on their property in the residence R-20 District.

The pool would be 10 feet from the rear wall of the house and 3.9 feet from the bulkhead. With a one foot apron along the rear length of the pool, the northeastern corner of the pool would be located 28.0 feet from the rear setback and the southeastern corner would be located 27.5 feet from the rear setback. These setbacks fail to meet the required 30 foot setback by 15 inches and 30 inches, respectively. Due to the unusual topography of the petitioners' lot which slopes down approximately 10 feet from the front and south side of the house, constructing the pool elsewhere on the lot is not practicable, if possible. Siting the pool closer to the house is not possible due to the location of the bulkhead. Mr. Jones indicated he inquired about relocating the bulkhead and was informed by his builder that this would be a costly and unwise plan. At the public hearing no one appeared in opposition to the petition.

The board found that a literal enforcement of the zoning by-law would involve substantial hardships, financial or otherwise to the petitioners and that granting the petition would not be detrimental to the public good.

Protect Wetlands Now

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

We all have another chance to influence the future of wetlands in our area and around the nation by writing President Bush to object to the proposed changes in what a wetland is. If accepted, these proposals would lift federal protection from 41%, or 197,000 acres, of what is left of Massachusetts wetlands.

According to the EPA, Army Corps of Engineers, Fish and Wildlife Service, and the Soil Conservation Service, the acreages lost would be even higher in other New England states. Indeed, one-third of the nation's wetlands could be affected by the proposed changes in the EPA's Federal Wetlands Manual. The new deadline for public comment is January 21, 1992.

We encourage people to ask the White House to appoint an independent, impartial organization, such as the National Academy of Sciences, to carry out the field tests in the proposed manual to see if they are valid, defensible, replicable, and scientifically sound.

Massachusetts citizens have a growing understanding of the value of wetlands and what they do: serve as nurseries for the seafood industry, protect and store groundwater, provide flood control, protect shorelines from erosion, filter toxics and other harmful substances, provide habitat for wildlife, keep areas cooler in the face of global warming (in this state 60 municipalities get their drinking water from wells in or near forested wetlands).

meeting on Sunday, January 19th. Her talk on "The Massachusetts Coastal Agenda" will articulate priorities and directions for the future of Buzzards Bay and the Commonwealth's entire coastline from the current administration's perspective.

Members of the Coalition as well as public officials and the general public are welcome at this annual gathering from 1 to 3 p.m. at Tabor Academy's Lyndon Auditorium South, on Spring Street in Marion.

A brief business meeting will be conducted by Board of Directors President Shirley N. Schlothauer during which new officers and new board members will be elected. The Coalition's Executive Director, Mimi McConnell, will give a concise update on current projects.

Several individuals will receive the Coalition's Guardian Award, which is given for "outstanding service in the stewardship of this magnificent estuary entrusted to our care". Thus far, nine such awards have been granted. Refreshments will be served.

Care of Holiday Plants

During the festive days of the holiday season, many people give and/or receive holiday plants as gifts, reports Deborah C. Swanson, Horticulturist at the Plymouth County Extension in Hanson, MA. Holiday plants should provide many weeks, months or years of horticultural pleasure if cared for properly.

A few plants commonly available at this time of year are: Azalea. Azaleas prefer bright light, cool temperature and an abundance of water. When they stop blooming in the house, continue to water them. Place outdoors when danger of frost is past. Place in a partially shaded spot and keep the soil moist. Prune in late May or early June to keep a well-shaped bush. Bring the plant in before frost and keep in a well-lighted room with a cool temperature (45-50 degrees) until January. At that time bring the plant into a warm spot to force the buds to bloom. Never allow the plant to dry out during forcing, or the buds will drop.

Cyclamen: Keep in a cool, north window or where the sun is not too strong and keep evenly moist. Toward the end of March they will cease to flower, and the leaves will turn yellow as they go into their dormant period. Gradually reduce watering them and pick off the dead leaves. It is important not to wet the centers of the plant. At the beginning of June stop watering altogether and expose the corms to the full sun until the end of July when watering should begin again. As soon as the corms begin to develop young leaves, replant into a larger pot with the corms half in the soil and half out.

Gloxinia: Keep gloxinias evenly moist and in moderate sun. When the last bloom has faded and there is no sign of new buds, gradually withhold water until the soil is almost dry. Store the tuber in dim light at 50-60 degrees F. Water often enough to keep the tuber alive. When new sprouts appear, repot and start over again by fertilizing and keeping the soil evenly moist.

Poinsettias: To prolong the life of a flowering poinsettia, keep it evenly moist and protect it from becoming chilled or sitting in any draft. It delights in full sunlight and a temperature range of 65-72 degrees F. When the colorful bracts begin to fall, set the plant in a lighted place where the temperature will not fall below 55 F. and keep the soil barely moist. When the danger of frost is gone in the spring, sink the pot up to its rim in the soil outdoors in a location where it will get full sunlight, preferably morning sun. It is a good idea to cut off the top of the plant, thus promoting good branching for a full-looking bush. Keep the plant outdoors until the nights are cool. Bring the plant in and keep it in full sunlight and keep evenly moist. The plant will go through a stage where it will lose some of its leaves, but do not become alarmed. It is only adjusting to the environment of your home. To make the poinsettia bloom again, it must have

Place the plant in a cool, dark place for at least 12 hours being sure no light hits it, such as a lamp, headlights, etc. In the morning bring it out for the day. Burning Coal and Wood

Plymouth County Cooperative Extension has a few remaining informational booklets entitled Burning Wood and Coal, an 89 page book published by the Northeast Regional Agriculture Engineering Service. Support in writing this publication came from several universities, the University of Connecticut, University of Maine and Cornell University. This book will assist in evaluating your options -- wood or coal. Furnaces and boilers are explained; stove type and chimney drafts, types and cleaning.

For this book send a check for $5.50 (payable to University of Massachusetts) and mail to Plymouth County Cooperative Extension, P.O. Box 658, Hanson, MA 02341. Plymouth County Cooperative Extension has a wide range of free educational fact sheets on this topic available at the County Extension office located on High Street, Hanson and open Monday-Friday 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

WalkAmerica New Bedford

CHAIRMAN NAMED

The 1992 WalkAmerica for Healthier Babies will be spearheaded by Diane Hunter, Administrative Coordinator of the St. Luke's Center for addictive Disorders. She will serve as chairperson of the annual event which will benefit the March of Dimes and residents of New Bedford and its surrounding towns.

Diane Hunter's appointment was announced by Massachusetts Chapter Chairperson Christine Montilio. Ms. Hunter has been a dedicated March of Dimes volunteer and has participated in WalkAmerica for Healthier Babies for over three years. Her responsibilities include overseeing recruitment and organizational activities for the event which will take place on Sunday, April 26th, in New Bedford's Buttonwood Park. Volunteers are needed to join Ms. Hunter in making this year's event more successful than ever. Volunteers will benefit from the knowledge that they are joining the March of Dimes in their efforts to reduce low birthweight and birth defects - leading causes of infant mortality in New Bedford. "We need to work as a team to give all the children of New Bedford a chance for a healthy start in life", said Diane Hunter.

Last year the Massachusetts Chapter raised more than $450,000 to benefit maternal and child health across the state. Contributions to this year's WalkAmerica for Healthier Babies will support March of Dimes programs such as Babies and You, a healthy pregnancy education program offered at no cost to businesses and shelters.

St. Luke's Hospital
ELECTS TRUSTEES-ANNUAL MEETING

St. Luke's Health Foundation of Greater New Bedford, the parent company of St. Luke's Hospital of New Bedford, recently held its annual meeting. The meeting included election of officers for the Foundation, the Hospital and its other subsidiaries. Subsidiary companies were established under the Foundation to offer health related services that are not provided by the hospital and which financially support the operations of St. Luke's Hospital.

The Board of Trustees of St. Luke's Health Foundation of Greater New Bedford, the parent company of St. Luke's Hospital, newly elected Tobey L. Gaspar to the position of chairman of the organization.

Mr. Gaspar, who is treasurer of Sakonnet Properties and former treasurer of Gaspar Sausage Company, has been active on the board of trustees of St. Luke's Hospital and Foundation since 1984. Most recently he held the position of secretary of the Foundation.

Throughout his years of service to St. Luke's, Mr. Gaspar has shared his time and expertise in numerous capacities. He has served on the hospital's Patient Care

Assessment Committee and Joint Conference Committee, both of which he chaired, and the Long Range Planning, Quality Assurance, Finance, Medical Staff Master Plan and Executive Committees. In addition, Mr. Gaspar has devoted his energies to several of the Foundation's subsidiaries, including Bristol Medical Management, serving as treasurer, SLH Healthcare, serving as chairman, and SLH Ventures.

A businessman and real estate developer, Mr. Gaspar has been active in community affairs and industrial development. He has held the position of vice president for the Greater New Bedford Chamber of Commerce, vice president of Schwartz Rehab Center, and chairman of the Dartmouth Industrial Foundation. He has served on the boards of the New Bedford Industrial Foundation, the Bristol County Development Council, Job Paths, and the United Way. A graduate of New Bedford High School and Cape Cod Community College, Mr. Gaspar resides in South Dartmouth.

Also newly elected to the position of secretary of St. Luke's Foundation was John D. Kelleher, senior vice president, Lending Division, of Compass Bank for Savings. Active on numerous St. Luke's trustee committees, Mr. Kelleher is currently chairman of SLH Property, a property-holding subsidiary of the St. Luke's Health Foundation. Mr. Kelleher holds a B.A. Degree from Boston College. He served as treasurer of WHALE and as

Fairs and Festivals 1992

NORTHEAST AND SOUTHEAST
NOW AVAILABLE IN ONE BOOK

Fairs and Festivals, in its seventeenth year of publication, will be available for purchase in February. The Northeast and Southeast editions have been consolidated into one volume, giving craftspeople the potential to double their market.

Fairs and Festivals 1992: Northeast and Southeast lists locations, application information, contact names, and descriptions of more than 500 festivals in 26 states and the District of Columbia. Fairs and festivals features two indexes, one by state and one by title, and early listings in 1993, making it an invaluable marketing tool for thousands of craftspeople, artists, performers and vendors, as well as a guide for the public, buyers, and the press.

To obtain a copy of Fairs and Festivals 1992: Northeast and Southeast, mail a check for $12.00, plus shipping and handling ($3 in New England, $3.50 outside New England), payable to the Arts Extension Service, Division of Continuing Education,

Children's Museum, Boston

CELEBRATE THE "YEAR OF THE MONKEY"

Oshogatsu, or Japanese New Year, is the most important seasonal event in Japan. In honor of this special holiday The Children's Museum, Boston and the Japanese Language School in Boston have joined together to present a celebration of Japanese New Year. Every corner of the Museum will be filled with activities, games and performances. Celebrate the "Year of the Monkey" in the Japanese tradition on Sunday, January 19th, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. at The Children's Museum.

Visitors of all ages will enjoy watching and participating in a traditional Japanese tea ceremony, and playing New Year's games such as fukuwarai (the smiling goddess game), hanetsuki (badminton) and omikuji (fortune telling). Kids can make nengago (New Year's cards) and create origami animals and decorations. Even toddlers can take part in the celebration by playing with Japanese toys in the "Playspace" exhibit. Other activities include making special New Year's rice cakes, trying kakizome (calligraphy) and a chance to view and try on Japanese kimonos. Also, don't miss an exciting shishimai (lion dance)! A complete listing of activities and times follows.

In recognition of the New Year, the Museum's Japanese House will be decorated with shimenawa (sacred straw rope), kado matsu (pine boughs) and other customary New Year's symbols of longevity and prosperity.

Japanese New Year is part of "Winter Celebrations", an annual exhibition, program and performance series that gives children an opportunity to experience and appreciate holiday celebrations from other cultures while sharing their own cultural traditions.

The program is presented by the Museum's Multicultural Program which is funded by Bank of Boston and the Jessie B. Cox Charitable Trust. Additional funding has been provided, in part, by the Massachusetts Cultural Council, as administered by the Boston Arts Lottery.

The following activities will take place on Sunday, January 19th, in honor of Japanese New Year:

11 a.m. to 3 p.m., Mochitsuki - pound rice and taste mochi cakes.

11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and 1:30 to 3 p.m., Origami - learn the Japanese art of paper folding.

11 a.m. to 12 and 2 to 3 p.m., Hanetsuki - play a game like badminton.

Guest Relations at St. Luke's Hospital of New Bedford.

The award was established a year ago to recognize individuals for their untiring and outstanding actions in making St. Luke's Hospital a more human and caring place. In presenting the award, John B. Day, president & CEO, said, "Last year we introduced this new award; this year I want to establish this award as a St. Luke's tradition to salute special individuals who, in the course of performing their jobs, bring a congenial and supportive spirit to all their interactions."

Award recipient Kathleen Langford has worked in Patient Financial Services for over ten years. In her position she supervises patient financial service representatives who help eligible patients apply for medical assistance programs or free care to meet their financial obligation to the hospital.

In nominating Ms. Langford, her peers described her as "highly motivated to insure patient needs are met while making her staff want to do a good job". Her counterparts from many other hospitals have frequently contacted or visited her because of her "exceptional knowledge" in her area of expertise. Her department has been singled out by the state as the most efficient and accurate Patient Financial Service in southeastern Massachusetts.

A graduate of Fisher Junior College, Ms. Langford is active in fundraising for the New Bedford Women's Center. She and her husband, Fred Gomes, live in New Bedford.

Award recipient Susan Mattson was recently promoted to the position of Clinical Nurse Manager for ICU/CCU. However, at the time of her nomination for the award she served as clinical nurse specialist and educator for the ICU/CCU. She has been a nurse educator at St. Luke's for the past four years.

Recipient of St. Luke's Hospital's President Award for Excellence in Guest Relations: Susan Mattson, RN

"Susan's entire role is supportive to nurses, patients, families, physicians and everyone at St. Luke's", noted her peers who nominated her for the honor. "She has a positive outlook, radiates an upbeat attitude, and a wonderful sense of humor. She focuses on the positive aspects of issues and how to solve them. Mainly, she is very dedicated to St. Luke's and its staff, as well as the patients and families."

A graduate of the University of Massachusetts at Worcester where she earned a Master of Science degree in Critical Care, Ms. Mattson is also an alumna of the University of Massachusetts at Dartmouth (the former SMU) where she earned her undergraduate degree in Nursing.

Ms. Mattson is a member of the nursing honor society Sigma Theta Tau and the American Association of Critical Care Nurses. Active in the Congregational Church, she lives in Marion with her husband Wayne. They have three children: Wayne, an engineer; Meredith, a senior nursing student at the University of Massachusetts Dartmouth; and Jennifer, a student at UCLA.

Both Ms. Langford and Ms. Mattson were selected from a field of eight finalists for this highest honor. The eight finalists represent the top staff employees and managers from each of the hospital's divisions. "Being nominated for this award is a distinct honor in itself", noted Mr. Day as he paid special tribute to all the finalists who were saluted as "Special Honorees" for the President's Award for Excellence in Guest Relations. Special Honorees include: Irene Casey, Clinical Nurse Manager, Century 4; Debra Chmiel, Communications Manager; Nancy Espinola, Medical Records Manager; Ida Fernandes, Admission Clerk; Patricia Keenan, Discharge Coordinator; and Judith Nunes, Environmental services Secretary.

The award winners and special honorees were recognized at the hospital's annual meeting and received their awards at the annual St. Luke's Holiday reception. Their photos will remain on display for the year in the main lobby.

Veterans' Services

COMPENSATION-DISABLED VETERANS INCREASED

The Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) has announced that compensation payments for disabled veterans will be increased by 3.7 percent, effective December 1.

The cost-of-living allowance was included in legislation signed by President Bush November 12. Since passage of the legislation VA has been working to ensure that veterans' January 1992 checks reflect the increase.

The increase affects two million veterans whose monthly payments will range from $83 for a single veteran with a 10-percent disability rating to $1,680 for a single veteran with a 100-percent disability rating. Also affected are some 341,000 survivors of service members or veterans who died from service-connected causes.

Veterans whose service-connected disabilities are rated at 30 percent or more may receive additional allowances for dependents, based on the number of dependents and the extent of disability. A veteran with a 30 percent or higher rating also is entitled to a special allowance for a spouse in need of the aid and attendance of another person.

For additional information contact the VA Regional Office, 380 Westminster Mall, Providence, Rhode Island at 273-4910 or toll-free, 1-800-827-0389.

Submitted by: Mr. Harvey J. Blanchette, District Director of Veteran Services for Mattapoisett and Rochester.

Whale Discovery Center

Every morning during this school holiday season the floor at the Whale Discovery Center in Plymouth is littered with the bones of a white dolphin. It's not your ordinary collection of bones though because this one has been carefully reconstructed under the guidance of Professor Jehoda who heads the Ecology Sciences Department at Bridgewater State College. One of the staff at the Discovery Center Museum helps the children tell the difference between a rib and a clavicle as they assemble the pieces into a completed skeleton. It is a hands-on learning experience in which the young people find that a dolphin is not so different from a human and that all creatures deserve their place in the scheme of things.

Wareham Garden Club

The December meeting of the Wareham Garden Club was held at the Fellowship Hall of the First Congregational Church and was conducted by President Christine Decas. Arrangements and swags were made for the Annual Christmas Fair.

New Members accepted into the club were Rosemary Barrett of Wareham and Priscilla Hambrough of Marion.

Civic Holiday Decorations Chairman Corine Hambly distributed twenty-five poinsettias to Tobey Hospital and made fifty-five snowmen for the Christmas Day tray favors. Swags and wreaths were hung at the Tobey Hospital, Wareham Library, Lighthouses and Historical buildings.

NOVENA TO ST. JUDE
Oh Holy St. Jude Apostle and Martyr, great in virtue and rich in miracles, near Kinsman of Jesus Christ faithful intercessor of all who invoke your special patronage in time of need to you. I have recourse from the depths of my heart and humbly beg to whom God has given such great power to come to my assistance. Help me in my present and urgent petition. In return I promise to make your name known and cause you to be invoked. Say three Our Fathers, three Hail Marys and three Glorias. Publication must be promised. St. Jude pray for us and all who invoke your aid. Amen. This must be said for nine consecutive days. This Novena has never been known to fail. J.H.M.

Newbury College

SATURDAY CLASSES

Registration is now going on for several seven-week Saturday courses, scheduled to begin on January 25th, at the New Bedford High School campus of Newbury College. Offerings include Word Processing Skills using Word Perfect 5.1, MicroEconomics, Psychology, Art History, and Introduction to Business. The three-credit courses run from 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. through March 7, and may be taken to satisfy Newbury's degree requirements, for transfer to another institution, for enrichment or for job advancement.

For more information call 996-3138 or visit the Administration Office at 995 Rockdale Avenue, New Bedford.

BARTENDING COURSE

A six-week certificate course in Bartending (Mixology) begins on Wednesday, January 22nd at the New Bedford Campus of Newbury College. The sessions run once a week from 6 to 7:30 p.m. and teach students how to mix drinks for fun and profit. Class size is limited, so early registration is recommended. For more information call 996-3138 or visit the Newbury Administration Office at 995 Rockdale Avenue, New Bedford.

ADVICE ON SPRING COURSES

Walk-in advisement is scheduled this week through January 10th at Bristol Community College from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. on the Elsbree Street campus, Fall River.

Students planning on taking spring courses are invited to come talk with academic advisers during this week, according to Janice Motta, dean of continuing education and community services. "We have a full staff of academic advisers on duty to help students make decisions about their spring course load", said Ms. Motta. "These advisers talk with students about their educational goals, and help them plan a schedule that meets their requirements."

Academic advisement takes place in the Hudnall Building on the Elsebree Street, Fall River campus. Classes begin January 21st. Students can register for courses daily Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., and Saturday 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

For more information on evening and weekend classes offered this spring by Bristol Community College call the Continuing Education office at 678-2811, ext. 155.

Dinner Theatre

Last of the Red Hot Lovers, a 3-act comedy, will be performed by L.A.F. Productions in dinner theatre Friday and Saturday, January 10th, 11th, 17th and 18th at the John Carver Inn, 25 Summer Street, Plymouth. For information and reservations call 746-7100 or 1-800-447-7778.
